SAYS DRIFT HAS STARTED FROM THE TAFT CAMP

Roosevelt's Manager Claims Desertion Is Order of the Hour Among the Delegates

"BLUFF" DECLARES M'KINLEY

Administration Leader Denounces Dixon's Statement as a "Stall"

RUMOR NAGLE MAY RESIGN

Action on Missouri Contest May Create Vacancy in President's Cabinet

CHICAGO, June 14.—Declaring that the drift of the delegates from President Taft had started, Senator Dixon, manager for Col. Roosevelt, declared today that two of the North Carolina delegates, whose identity he did not reveal, but who have been considered pledged Taft men, have assured him that they will vote for Col. Roosevelt.

When this was communicated to Congressman McKinley, manager for Taft, he asked that names of delegates be given. Told they had not, he said: "Bluff, pure and simple. When Dixon gives you the name of a southern delegate who was either instructed or pledged to Taft and who has gone over to Roosevelt, come back here and we will see whether we can match it."

Work on Free Delegates

It developed that the Taft plan in this connection is most elaborate. During the last week William Barnes and other managers of the Taft boom have been busy with the uncommitted. They have amassed a list of men who have agreed to vote for the president. In order to offset desertions from the south and there is now no longer any concealment of the fact that some are expected by the Taft managers, names of uncommitted delegates who have pledged themselves to vote for the president will be made public to offset the Roosevelt gains.

The names of these men, however, will be withheld to be passed out as they are needed.

The Taft managers insisted that they did not fear the appearance here of Col. Roosevelt tomorrow afternoon. They insisted that they considered it a confession of weakness.

To Fire Nagle

It was persistently reported here today that there will soon be a vacancy in President Taft's cabinet. Secretary Nagle is being openly criticized by Taft men for the failure of the Missouri contest on the delegates at large. It was his statement that an agreement had been reached whereby the votes at large from the hound dog state caused the Taft men to hold their convention. He was depended upon to contradict Gov. Hadley before the committee when the governor declared there was no such agreement. Nagle was to do this and on the eve of the hearing left the city.

Congressman McKinley, President Taft's manager, and Secretary Hilles, who is the personal representative, held a conference today, the outcome of which was carefully guarded by both men. It followed a report received at the Roosevelt headquarters over the long distance telephone early today that Roosevelt had secured a number of additional pledges from members of the New York delegation. These men, it was reported, had decided to vote with the Roosevelt men on all questions, including that of temporary organization.

William Barnes, Jr., the New York chairman, promptly denied that there had been any desertions, and insisted nearly all of the delegates would accept the suggestion of the New York state convention and vote for both the renomination of Taft and the election of Root as temporary chairman.

The Roosevelt men, however, were more confident in their bearing than at any time since the fight began, and this was reflected in the national committee, when suggested compromises of contests were rejected by the Roosevelt men.

The first of the state delegations to arrive came in today. It was the advance guard of the Roosevelt boosters from West Virginia and the members went directly to their quarters on the third floor of the Sherman hotel.

The vanguard of the Ohio Taft delegates came on an early train in the person of Harry Daugherty. He said the remainder of the Ohio delegation would be in tomorrow and on Sunday. Daugherty went direct to the Taft headquarters, where he and Joseph Keating of Indiana discussed the situation.

RIVER FACTION ADMITS DEFEAT

Alderman Torrance Says Bonds Will Be Issued for the Construction of Reservoir

SALOON PROBLEMS ARE HARD

Controversy on License May Be Reopened; Two Men Want License for Empire Saloon

Alderman William Torrance, one of the strongest opponents of the well system and reservoir, today said that in his opinion the bond issue of $150,000 for the construction of the reservoir which comes before the council tonight, will be carried. When this question was previously submitted to the council it was lost by a vote of fourteen to six, one alderman being absent. Sixteen votes are required to carry the bonding proposition. Of the six men who opposed the bond issue upon the former vote, it is probable that some have changed their views on the subject and will vote to support the further bonding of the city. Mr. Torrance will vote against the bonds.

The council will also probably pass a resolution to appropriate $1,000 to pay Engineer A. T. Maltby in full. His contract called for $4,000 and he has received $3,000. The ratification of his plans and specifications by Engineer Benetzette Williams of Chicago, has put the council in a position where it would not be advisable, from a legal standpoint, to refuse payment. Mr. Maltby was in the city today but returned to Chicago.

Other matters relative to the new water system will be brought up. The report of the street, alley and finance committee on the opening of Vine street so as to have it meet an approach to the Riverside park, will be submitted.

The controversy involving the right of the city council to grant a saloon license to a person to establish a new location, which ended in a negative decision before the supreme court of Wisconsin last year promises to break out again. Suit was brought before the circuit court of La Crosse county and later carried to the supreme court to revoke the license issued to Olaf Larson, who had procured a license for a location at 301 Rose street, which location had not previously been used for saloon purposes. The supreme court upheld the decision of the circuit court and the license was revoked.

Olaf Larson again made application for license for the same location today. This will be brought before the council and may be granted or not. Larson bases his right to a license for that location upon a clause which provides that a license may be granted for a new location in case application has been made for an old location and refused. Since his license was revoked, he has made application to open a saloon in the building formerly occupied by the Exchange hotel on George street. This was refused.

Another problem which confronts the city council is the granting of a new license for the location occupied by the Empire saloon on South Third street. This is owned by John J. Murphy and B. Brewster. Both have made application for individual license for this location, they having agreed to dissolve partnership.

To date about seventy-five saloon keepers have made application for saloon license. All who wish to procure a license to go into effect July 1 must make application before tomorrow noon. There are about seventy-five persons who will make application before that time.

GUARDS SHOOT AT MOB OF STRIKERS

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., June 14.—One striker was shot and killed and four other strikers were injured, one mortally, today, when a thousand strikers surrounded the main gate house at the American Smelting & Refining company's plant and were repulsed by a volley from rifles in the hands of forty private detectives guarding the property. The dead man is Stephen Dudack, 32 years old, and married. He was shot twice in the neck. Joseph Paul was taken in a dying condition to a hospital. He was shot in the back.

FAIRCHILD NOT TO ENTER RACE

Former Standpat Candidate Says He Will Not Run for Governor in Fall Campaign

URGED BY ALL FACTIONS

Admits that Progressives as Well as Standpatters Want Him to Make the Run

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 14.—E. T. Fairchild, standpat candidate for the republican nomination for governor two years ago, who was "snowed under" in that contest, announces that under no consideration will he become a candidate for governor this fall.

Mr. Fairchild proposes to thus efface himself in spite of his naive admission that he has been "urged to run" by "conservatives and progressives alike."

The story is that he was asked to run by the anti-McGovern republican element in the city of Milwaukee, among whom are a number of real progressives. However, that real progressives opposed to McGovern would stand for Fairchild, not to say "urge him" to run, is an idea at which progressives laugh. It is suggested that the "progressives" who urged Mr. Fairchild to run for governor are "Taft progressives."

"The story that I have been urged to make the run is partially correct," said Mr. Fairchild today, "as is the rumor that both progressives and conservatives offered support. I have decided not to enter the race. I am not and will not be a candidate. That is final."

ORDERS SOLDIER BEATEN.

GENEVA, June 14.—The fondness of Swiss officers for what the newspapers describe as "German army methods," was again disclosed when Lieut. Kunzler was sentenced to ten days imprisonment in barracks for ordering a corporal to beat a soldier with his sword-belt for a minor offense. The corporal got five days, and the injured private's friends are instituting a damage suit for assault against the aggressors.

MISSIS GIRL; SHOOT SELF

CHICAGO, June 14.—Standing beside the bed of his former sweetheart, Bernice Douthit, early today, Thomas H. Payne, aged 28, fired five shots at her. Every bullet struck the bed, but Bernice Douthit, the sweetheart of former times was not hurt. Reloading the revolver, Payne fired a bullet into his own body and was taken to a hospital in a serious condition.

TENNEY FUNERAL TODAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Rachael Tenney were held at her home, 1003 King street, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. According to arrangements made when she was still pastor of St. Paul's Universalist church of this city, of which Mrs. Tenney was a member, Rev. John S. Lowe of Providence, R. I., officiated at the funeral. The remains were laid in Oak Grove cemetery.

ATHLETES ADOPT MASCOT

ON BOARD THE STEAMSHIP FINLAND, ENROUTE TO THE OLYMPIC GAMES, BY WIRELESS VIA SEA GATE, June 14.—Harry Norton, 16, of Toledo, Ohio, a stow-away on the ship, was adopted as a mascot by the American Olympic athletes. Officers of the Finland found Norton and were about to put him ashore, penniless, in a pilot's boat, when the athletes heard of it.

McGOVERN DENIES REPORT

MADISON, Wis., June 14.—A rumor in wide circulation that Governor McGovern of the Wisconsin delegation would not be a candidate for temporary chairman of the national republican convention, was denied today by the governor. Approached on the subject he said: "There is absolutely no truth to such a rumor."

AFTER SUFFRAGE PLANK

COLISEUM, Chicago, June 14.—Governor Hiram Johnson of California today declared he would work for incorporation of a woman suffrage plank in the platform. "Suffrage has worked fine in California, and many other states," he said.

LONDON, June 14.—A dispatch to the Central News Agency from Tripoli today says that the Italians Wednesday were driven back by the Turks at Lebda, leaving 1,500 dead on the field. The fighting, the report says, lasted all day.

T. R. LEAVES FOR CHICAGO TONIGHT

After Conversation with Aides Colonel Announces He Will Go to the Convention

HE WILL LEAD THE BATTLE

Roosevelt to Take Full Charge, Is Statement Made by Dixon

NEW YORK, June 14.—Theodore Roosevelt this afternoon announced definitely that he would leave at 5:30 o'clock for Chicago, there personally to take charge of his fight for the republican presidential nomination. Coming into the corridor of the Outlook office, where an army of newspaper men were waiting after an hour's long distance telephone conversation with Lieutenants in Chicago, Colonel Roosevelt made this announcement:

"Gentlemen, gentlemen! I am going to Chicago on the 5:30 train this afternoon. I think it is the Lake Shore."

The colonel's face was flushed, apparently with excitement, and his eyes flashed as though he had just received some exciting news from Chicago.

Then he went to the office and dictated a statement for the press. The colonel said in his statement that many persons had called upon him and urged him to go to Chicago and that he had received "countless telegrams from delegates."

CHICAGO, June 14.—"As soon as the colonel reaches Chicago," said Senator Dixon, "he proposes to take personal charge of the fight, and to personally manage his entire campaign. I believe he has some little reputation as a fighter, and a manager. The newspapermen will not be kept in the dark as to his plans. He will see you all as soon as he arrives. His fight will be out in the open, and you can expect to see things happen."

"The Taft forces are demoralized, and all their whistling to keep up their courage is not drowning the noise of their chattering teeth. Their nerve is gone, and their delegates are going. Notwithstanding Barnes' blarney and bold front, the New York delegation has slipped its leash, and the delegates are coming over to the Roosevelt camp. The knowledge that the New York delegation has broken reached the Taft delegates and we are getting letters from both northern states assuring us of support that prior to yesterday we had not counted on."

That the visit of Colonel Roosevelt to this city tomorrow may have a deeper significance than to get control of the republican national convention was the belief of many well informed persons here. They promulgated an interesting theory to account for this. According to them, if the Taft control is as absolute as his managers assert, and if they can control their delegates at all times, Roosevelt will have to decide whether he will bolt or lay down, or whether he will take the delegates he has from the direct primary states, and with them form the nucleus of a new progressive party.

ROCK PILE JOB FOR SHOW MEN

Insult to La Crosse Girl Gets Two Into Jail; Three Others Are Fine

The taking of unwarranted liberties with a La Crosse girl while under the influence of intoxicating liquors by Fay Wilson and Charles Gurn will result in the Capital City Amusement company leaving La Crosse with two less men than the number with which they arrived last Monday. While the company is continuing its tour from city to city, the young men will pound stone at the La Crosse county jail.

According to the evidence of the case, they accosted a girl on Main street Wednesday evening and attempted to detain her by holding her arm. She broke away, whereupon they used abusive and obscene language. Attorney William S. Burroughs, being a witness to this affair, made complaint. They were given an option of a $12 fine or fifteen days in jail when arraigned before Judge Cronon in police court this morning.

George Broski was fined $12.50 and costs for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Benjamin Noll paid a fine of $3.50 and costs for drunkenness, and Daniel Dixon was given the same fine for a similar offense.

Complaint made against G. Trader, charging him with obscene language, was withdrawn yesterday and the case dismissed.

FATHER COMES TO TAKE GIRL HOME

Mr. Nelson Promises His Daughter that Dr. Allen Will Receive His Punishment

ALLEN REMAINS IN JAIL

Unable to Raise the $3,000 Bail Set by the Court, Waits for October Trial

It was a tearful but happy meeting between father and daughter in the Northwestern Hotel when pretty Lydia Nelson was clasped in the arms of S. W. Nelson of St. Paul this morning.

"Oh, I am so glad you came," the slender dark eyed girl cried, "I was so afraid of that man, Allen. He threatened to kill me if I didn't do the wicked act he commanded me to do and when I wouldn't and ran away, I kept thinking that he might carry out his threat. The police and the others have been very kind to me when I asked for help, but I want to go home."

"It's all right, little girl," was the husky reply, "you are safe now and that man will be punished. You come back to your home and the law will take care of him."

Signs $1,000 Bond

Mr. Nelson, a well-to-do contractor and builder of St. Paul, arrived on the midnight flyer last night in response to the message sent by the police. After signing a $1,000 bond in county court insuring his daughter's appearance at the October term of circuit court as witness against Allen, he and his daughter departed for St. Paul on the noon train.

Dr. Ralph Allen, who was bound over to circuit court by Judge C. L. Baldwin yesterday on a charge of enticing Miss Nelson from her home in St. Paul with the pretense that he wished to employ her as a leading lady in a theatrical company, stayed in the county jail last night and today, being unable to furnish the $3,000 bail decided upon by the court. Whether Allen will be able to raise the required amount or will be forced to wait his trial next October in jail could not be learned today.

In summing up his case yesterday afternoon A. C. Wolfe, attorney for Dr. Allen, urged that if Allen had abducted Miss Nelson from her home in St. Paul, the act took place in Minnesota and the case was not in the jurisdiction of any court in Wisconsin.

Calls Girl Stage Struck

"If there was any abduction," he said, "the case does not come under the Wisconsin statutes. The girl answered a printed advertisement and was not abducted. She came to La Crosse voluntarily and is old enough to know whether she wanted to stay or not. There was nothing to prevent her returning home except her own stage struck desire to be leading lady in the theatrical company. The evidence shows that she was not forced to remain against her will."

"Mr. Allen acted in good faith with the girls. He intended to start the show. The fact that he was willing to spend considerable money on the project proves this. The fact that he told her she had to be his wife for a year proves nothing. She did not have to submit to this. No such agreement was in the contract."

District Attorney James Thompson in closing said:

"The very act of this man in attempting to harm this innocent girl constitutes a crime. That he was unable to carry out his purpose was no fault of his. Only the remarkable strength of character shown by Miss Nelson prevented him from adding another to his already long list of misdeeds. The fact that he induced her to accompany him from the railroad station to a room in Dr. Lahn's home in La Crosse is enough to bring him within the jurisdiction of the courts of this state."

Threatened to Kill Her

"Allen threatened to kill her if she did not sign this agreement to act as his wife. He even asked her to be his wife for one day. I consider Allen one of the most dangerous men in the community."

"He did entice the girl from her home. He made promises that would entice many girls. He enticed this girl from her father's house for immoral purposes and if he could have worked his will upon her he would have tired of her and thrown her aside. Perhaps he would have even turned her over to someone else for money. I consider this the most important case that has come up during my term as district attorney. Allen should be sent to prison and it will be a miscarriage of justice if he is not."

Asks $5,000 Bail

Attorney Thompson closed his argument with the motion that Allen be bound over to the circuit court under $5,000 bonds. Judge Baldwin immediately bound the defendant over but placed the bail at $3,000.

Shortly before their departure for St. Paul today, Mr. Nelson declared that he would do everything in his power to have Allen punished. "If

Spring Festival Proves Achievement for Miss Eustis and Aids and Participants

Seasoned by but two years of existence, the State Normal school won glory in the "Contest of The Seasons," constituting the program for its "June Festival." It won also a still higher place in the esteem of the community in the life of which it seems destined to play an important part.

The festival was held in the hollow far out in Myrick Park, north of the hill from which an immense audience viewed the inspiring scene with pleasure which found expression in repeated applause. There the citizens gathered, before them the flowery throne, the May poles and the orchestra seats, with decorations.

The procession came from the south, marching over the rolling grounds, an army of boys and girls in gala attire. The audience arose and cheered as they swung over the hill and into the prepared playgrounds.

Leading her retinue, all mounted, came Queen Mary, who has reigned for the past year. Off the throne she is known as plain Mary Farnham, but off as on the throne she is a queen. Then came the courtiers, and after them the marching pageant of a growing generation.

A proclamation from the throne announced the contest to determine the merits of the seasons, and the program proceeded with an artistic effect most complimentary to Miss Lora Eustis, who as the genius of the physical training department conceived and perfected the fete.

Dancing tots representing the winds and sunshine bringing out the roses opened Summer's contention for the honors of the contest, the sun coaxing and the breezes urging until the little girls in rosebud costumes held up their heads and blossomed generously. A song, "I'll meet you at Half Past Two," by mixed company from the graduating class was prettily rendered. A Fourth of July celebration, in which realistic human firecrackers actually sizzled, with a pretty flag drill and a drill by the normal militia concluded Summer's offering.

Autumn sent in her winds to scatter leaves, then Hollowe'en, with Jack o' lanterns, witches and fairies, concluding with the harvesters. Winter's winds roughly buffeted the snow about. Then came Christmas with a comical Santa Claus dance and a pretty Christmas song. A laugh provoking impersonation of St. Valentine's Day was Winter's last contribution.

Then Spring came, with the awakening of the flowers, and the intricate and beautiful May pole dances. The training school were first to perform, and won hearty applause. Then the normal students danced. It was a pretty scene of which the audience expressed generous approval.

Then came the decision, and announcing the result the queen touched the head of Herald Spring in token of victory.

Finally came the great event, the coronation of Virginia Nelson as Queen Virginia, the sovereign until another June brings another queen. The costuming for all the features was excellent, the color combinations pleasing and their meaning plain.

DEMOCRATS GET READY FOR MEET

Norman E. Mack Declares There Are but Few Unimportant Contests to Be Decided

BALTIMORE, Md., June 14.—"Real business," was the motto hung up today when Norman E. Mack, chairman of the democratic national committee, took active charge of the preparations for the democratic national convention.

Mack said that the two-thirds rule will not be taken up at this convention, unless it is brought up in reference to the rules at the 1916 convention. There has been no protest against the unit rule in Ohio, according to Mack. He said that any such protest will have to come before the convention and so far it has not been filed.

There are but a few minor contests according to the chairman. These are in the territories, and Mack said that they were of little importance. It is expected that they will be settled in a short time.

ROLL OVER COLONEL AGAIN

Thought He Had Chance in One Contest, but a Roll Call Was Refused

CHICAGO, June 14.—The national republican committee this afternoon seated Taft delegates from the second, ninth and tenth Tennessee districts. Francis J. Heney protested loudly against what he called a steal in the ninth district, but was overruled by the Taft majority.

Ormsby McHarg, the Roosevelt contest manager, insisted the committee put the Washington and Virginia contests over until tomorrow. Both Dick and McHarg promised to consolidate the Virginia and Washington contests tomorrow in order that the committee might finish all contests by Saturday night.

The committee satisfied both sides putting all the contests over until Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. The committee then adjourned.

COLISEUM, CHICAGO, June 14.—Except for one bitter clash between Roosevelt and Taft partisans, the hearing of the republican national committee of contests Friday morning was without excitement.

In two of the three districts that sent contesting delegations all parties concerned were pledged to Taft, so the Roosevelt men on the committee sat back and enjoyed hearing the Taft claimants roar one another.

The Roosevelt managers thought they had a good case in the third Oklahoma district, and made a determined fight to land the delegates, but the committee, after refusing to submit to a roll call, seated the two Taft claimants. Walter L. Houser, national campaign manager for La Follette, entered late with the proxy of Alfred T. Rogers, Wisconsin committeeman. Ex-Senator James A. Hemenway sat in the committee with the proxy of Harry S. New of Indiana.

First Fight Starts

First blood was spilled just outside the national committee room door, shortly before noon, when Grant Victor, United States marshal, a member of the Oklahoma delegation, and a Taft adherent sitting in the national convention on a proxy, swung a hard right to the mouth of L. G. Disney of Muskogee, another Oklahoman. The punch brought the claret.

Victor's well directed punch brought a second, not from Disney, but from Pat Dore, another Oklahoman Roosevelt booster, and for a few moments the side show outside the

Hydro-Aeroplane Proves a Success When It Is Shown in the Orient

SHOWS TRICKS TO GERMANS

Charles C. Witmer, U. S. A., to Demonstrate the Planes in Fatherland and Russia

The fame of the hydro-aeroplane has reached the orient and a most successful demonstration was recently given at Tokio, Japan, for the benefit of the Japanese army and navy officials by Mr. W. B. Atwater of New York. Mr. Atwater is on a tour of the world, carrying with him two hydro-aeroplanes and giving demonstrations of a practical character before the military authorities of all the countries en route. On Saturday, May 11, he made three flights at Tokio.

Watched by Military

There was a great gathering of military men to witness the flights, among them Prince Wwacho, representing the Japanese Imperial family; Admiral Saito, minister of the imperial navy; Vice Admiral Uryu; Vice Minister of the Navy Takarabe; Captain Nagahara, and several hundred officers and students from the imperial naval school at Yokosuka. Captain Nagahara is the aerial expert of Japan.

On the second flight Mr. Atwater carried in the big hydro-aeroplane as a passenger Captain Umekita of the Yokosuka naval station.

These flights were the first ever given by a hydro-aeroplane in the Orient, and attracted extraordinary attention. On the following day additional exhibitions were given for the benefit of the high officials of the Japanese army.

Sold in Germany

On the other side of the world, Mr. Charles C. Witmer, the well known American aviator is preparing for a demonstration of the hydro-aeroplane sold to the Zeppelin company at Friedrichshafen, Wurtemberg, Germany. Mr. Witmer arrived at Friedrichshafen last Friday and began assembling the big passenger carrying hydro-aeroplane for flights on Lake Constance. After completing the demonstration at that point, he will proceed to Sebastopol, Russia, to demonstrate the three hydro-aeroplanes sold to the Russian navy, and which have already been shipped to that point, and afterwards will go to St. Petersburg, to try out a fourth machine purchased by the Russian Aerial League, for the Russian navy.

FINNISH WOMEN CAN BE LAWYERS

HELINGFORS, June 14.—Finnish women have succeeded in getting through Parliament a bill which gives them the right to appear as counsel before the courts. Other measures recently passed make women eligible for professorships in the university and for promotion in the railway service as high as traffic managers. Dr. Thelka Hutlin has introduced a bill, which appears likely to pass, removing the disqualification of sex in all departments of the government.

HARD NAMES PROBED.

VIENNA, June 14.—As a sequel to recent turbulent scenes in the Reichsrath, when the Christian Socialists and Social Democrats abused each other in connection with the election results, sixteen motions are pending for the appointment of as many committees of inquiry into the alleged use of unparliamentary language. Among the expressions complained of are "bodysnatcher", "verminous knave", "political convict", "impudent mud-thrower", and "apache".

Held

CHICAGO, June 13.—Only the breaking of levees on the Mississippi river this year, with disastrous results, prevented a vastly greater loss of life and property in the lower reaches of the river where the flood waters are poured down from twenty-six states, furnishing tragic argument to the executive committee of the National Drainage congress at its recent meeting in Chicago for the national drainage plan which was proposed.

"With a great drainage basin embracing forty-two per cent of the entire area of the United States turning its uncontrolled flood waters upon the lower Mississippi valley states, New Orleans and vicinity owes its escape from devastation entirely to the breaks in the levees further north," declared John A. Kruse, "breaks which caused death and destruction running appalling figures but not equal to the greater disaster that was prevented." These facts will be used to show why the federal and not state governments must take up the problem of controlling the rivers in flood seasons and draining the overflowed areas, the flood waters of any state rarely being the cause of damage in that state. The "drainage act," which was given final revision and which will be introduced in congress, embodies a plan by which about $5,000,000 would become available to the secretary of the interior at once, this sum being the moneys received from the sale and disposal of public lands in states of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio and Wisconsin since June 30, 1905. Committees named to present the drainage plank to the republican and democratic conventions, as an emergency need in view of the enormous losses suffered in the South during the freshets this year, were as follows: Republican: Frank B. Knight of Chicago; Edmund T. Perkins of Chicago; L. E. Rowley of Lansing, Mich.; and L. L. Lawrence of Laurel, Miss. Democratic: W. L. Sargent of Fort Worth, Texas; J. D. Rooney of Jacksonville, Fla.; J. H. Squires of Wilmington, Del.; Geo. W. Deen of Waycross, Ga., and also Mr. Lawrence.

On application to the police stations citizens may be provided with neatly printed tags, with blanks to be filled out with their names and addresses, and reading "If I am found in a condition which renders me incapable of going home alone, kindly conduct me to the above address."

CAN'T CROSS LEGS IN SWITZERLAND

GENEVA, June 14.—About the only country in Europe that is free from international complications, Switzerland finds plenty of time to devote to the domestic uplift. For instance, in the street cars the following signs have recently been posted: Do not smoke; do not spit; have small change ready; pay your fare promptly; speak clearly when naming your destination; do not move until the conductor summons you; do not cross your legs or otherwise impede the passage. Conductors are under orders to straighten out any legs they find crossed.

Fines for various infractions of the law are placarded everywhere thus: For throwing rubbish on the pavement, 5 francs; for ill-treating a dog, 3 francs; for walking on the grass, 2 1/2 francs.

A man would rather stone his neighbor's dog than rock a baby.

FIGHT DUEL BY RUNNING RACE

PARIS, June 14.—Messieurs Henri Desgrange and Jules Gentil gave each other the shorter and uglier word, so a duel was inevitable. But devastated at the idea of carving each other up with swords or blowing holes in each other with guns, they hit on a really up-to-date sporting duel.

Desgrange is editor of a sporting newspaper and Gentil manager of a firm of bicycle manufacturers, and the latter being the challenged party chose a running match, best two out of three times, round the Bois de Boulogne. Despite the fact that he is ten years older than his rival Desgrange had Gentil beaten to a frazzle in the first race covering the eight mile course in forty seconds under the hour. The second and third races are to be pulled off as soon as Gentil has recovered his breath, but in the meantime Desgrange considers his honor is satisfied.

Many a good woman prays for her husband, but she keeps an eye on him just the same.

Investigate the Cause

If your house was cold last winter—there was probably a good reason for it outside of the shortcomings of your heating apparatus.

Investigate the cause. For your own and your family's comfort's sake root out the cause or rectify it before cold weather sets in again. Visit the up-stairs rooms and the attic. Note the cracks and crevices under the eaves and around the chimney or window frames. Nose around down cellar—inspect and make a mental note of the openings between the foundation and the base beams of the entire structure. Then recall all that you learned at school about heat and how, like cream, it always rises to the top.

No matter what the construction of your house may be—whether clap-boarded, bricked, tiled or with walls of concrete—you cannot expect to keep the heat indoors and evenly distributed throughout unless it is properly insulated against cold. And the only heat-and-cold insulation is

LINOFEELT

Figure it out for yourself. Heat always rises and if the roof and eaves or the attic floor of your house are not sheathed with Linofelt you are simply tossing good money after bad, buying and burning fuel in a mad effort to heat your rooms and all outdoors besides. As this is the case, don't let another summer pass without investigating the fuel and comfort economies of Linofelt. Call up our local agent now. Tell him to demonstrate just why and how the specially prepared flax fibres of Linofelt keep a house warmer in winter and cooler in summer than any other known substance. Sensible Women Know Foundation of Health

As health talks to women become more general, both in the newspapers and on the platform, the mass of women are beginning to realize what the more cultivated have always known, that good health cannot be found in a powder box. The external of health may be obtained in that way, but the basis of health lies deeper, and yet is just as easily obtained.

The most important thing that a woman can do for herself, and about which she is often most neglectful, is to watch the condition of her stomach and bowels. The weary eyes, the bad breath, the frequent headaches, the pimples, the general air of lassitude is time out of ten the result of constipation or indigestion, or both. Many simple remedies can be obtained, but the best in the estimation of most women is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is mild, pleasant to the taste and exactly suited to her needs. It is far superior to salts, cathartic pills, water, etc., which are entirely too violent.

Women should see to it that they have at least one movement of the bowels each day, and when showing any tendency to constipation should take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in the small dose prescribed. A brief use of this medicine will train the stomach and bowels to regular action. These opinions are voiced by thousands of women, after personal experience, among them Edna H. Dickinson, Verdala, Minn., and Maria Tager, Marinette, Wis.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 409 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

WHERE UNCLE SAM STRUCK A BARGAIN

Alaska's clamor for a territorial legislature bids fair to catch the ear of congress at last. Alaska has been pleading a long time for a proper government, but thus far its prayer has fallen on deaf ears, although its population is greater than that of many territories when they were given their first legislatures.

The present population of the territory is about 65,000 which is nearly as much as the state of Nevada now has, more than many territories have had when first organized, and more than some of the original thirteen states had when the nation was born.

The most striking feature of Alaska, however, is the wonderful wealth it has yielded already, and the vastly greater wealth that it is destined to yield in the future. Back in 1867 when we acquired Alaska, the act was ridiculed by many; and many ignorant and short-sighted ones begrudged the paltry seven millions that we paid for that huge domain. But since that time Alaska has yielded over $206,000,000 in metals alone, and $229,000,000 more in the products of her fisheries. The total production of Alaska in 45 years has been over $446,000,000, and against that enormous sum we have to charge only about $35,000,000 for the purchase price and total cost of administration to date.

This profit of twelve for one, or about 25 per cent a year on the entire investment for the whole 45 years, is easily the biggest bargain ever struck by Uncle Sam. Yet this is only the beginning. The coal of Alaska alone is probably worth ten times as much as all of its gold and silver. Its forests represent another vast mine of wealth. And finally we are told that the great interior Tanana valley has good farming land of equal value and of larger area than all the farming land of Norway, Sweden and Finland, where ten million people live by agriculture.

Such are the prodigious benefits that have flowed from a single act of far-sighted statesmanship.

LET'S STAND BY OUR CRIPPLED OUTCASTS

The fan is about the only animal that recognizes the impossible and expects it to happen.

The Outcasts cannot play winning baseball in their present condition. They should be in the hospital rather than on the diamond.

Manager Bond, 2 b., is out of the game.

Van Horn, 1 b., has a crippled shoulder; can't hit, and plays only part of the time.

Weigert, ss., is playing under protest with an ankle that deserves a month's rest; his hitting and fielding are 33 per cent of normal.

Graves, the best old timer in the league, who was hitting .700, is out of the game with a dangerous leg injury.

Nally, the star pitcher, has deserted because he couldn't stand the grief of a losing streak.

The team has been playing two pitchers in fielding positions and making the most of it. The record, under the circumstances, is good.

We've simply got to meet conditions as they are. We must keep within the salary limit, so we can't get new emergency players. We must face a losing streak for thirty days. When this team gets into form none of its competitors will have anything on it.

It is emergencies like that which we now face that test the mettle of the fans. Now is the time the team most needs support. Let's line up and take our medicine. Let's stand by our team when it needs us most. We haven't been outgeneraled, we've been out lucked. Be game, we gorrah!

Because we suggested that in cutting off the dog's tail a little at a time he had selected the little spaniel rather than the big bulldog, Prof. L. P. Denoyer, president of the Welfare league, has cancelled his subscription to The Tribune, and with a wave of his hand places us gently but firmly in the category of undesirable citizens. Realizing the tremendous advantage which the ownership of a newspaper gives us over Professor Denoyer, we refrain from discussing the matter further than to say that we feel considerably spanked.

A scientist has ascertained that a pound of soap will make 2,344,000 bubbles. Probably, with less effort, he could have found out how many shirts a pound of soap will clean.

A Pittsburg man's wife is suing him for divorce because he painted his automobile red. Perhaps she would rather he had painted the town red.

Mary Garden is sued for $7,600 for hats. She never could incur a bill of that size for the gowns she wears.

We suggest swatting flies as a favorable method of working off a peeve.

He Thirsted For Home.

An Englishman recently formed an opinion of Canada because of liquor laws. Arriving at a Western hotel on a Saturday night he asked for something to drink, but was told: "Bar closed at seven o'clock Saturdays." On Sunday morning he tried again, but was told that the bar was closed. So he waited till the hour at which bars open on Sundays in England, but was told that in Canada the bars are closed all day Sunday. His business took him up country, and on a week-day he asked to get a drink. "Can't get it," was the answer. "We're under local option." And here is what he said, "Well, if this is Canada, I wish I had money enough to get back to England."

To What End?

Out of these dreams of good and evil, dense
With hopes grown half despaired, despairs that trace
Furrows for hope, I wake sometimes and face
The darkness of our final noscience:
Then earth's dancing pageants fall away—
Her flowers and forests and assuag-
ing streams;
All man's philosophies and golden dreams—
The veils he wraps about the face of clay—

Dissolve. And there remains eternal lack
Of any comfort: for those question-
ings,
Whose stubborn challenge still unchallenged rings,—
Nor man nor god gives ever answer back,—
Set like stark monoliths as terminals
To Life's long alley, close Death's

Scots Whatteffer.

Two travellers—an Englishman and a Scotsman—were promenading the deck of an ocean liner, when their talk came to be about the ubiquity of Scotsmen as ship engineers. "I really don't know," remarked the Scot, "who the chief engineer on board this vessel is, but I'll bet he's a countryman of mine." With that he went to the engine-room and sang down by way of a random shot—"I say, MacDonald! To which a resentful voice replied from the horrid depths—"There's nae MacDonalds here—we're a' Mac-Kenzies!"

His Book.

"Now, here is a book," exclaimed the seedy man as he dashed into the banker's private office. "Don't want any books," grunted the lawyer. "But this one you can't help being interested in." "Haven't time to read books, and ——" "But I am sure you will take this book," persisted the seedy man. "Look here, sir, do you intend to leave this room, or must I ——" "Don't need to call the porter; I'll go. This is your book, though." "My book?" "Yes; your pocket-book. I found it in the hall." Then he vanished.

The Baby's Future.

"So that's the baby, eh?" "That's the baby." "Well, I hope you will bring it up to be a conspicuous, God-fearing man." "I am afraid that will be rather difficult." "Pshaw! As the twig is bent the tree's inclined." "I know, but this twig is bent on being a girl, and we are inclined to let it go at that."

Proper Pride.

"Jessie—'Our Jamie's no' at the schule the day, cause he's got the measles, an' my mither says he'll no' be out o' the hoose for twa or three weeks." Maggie—"An' our Lizzie's got the measles, too; she got them frae the bairns at the dairy." Jessie (scornfully)—"At the dairy! Our Jamie got his frae the minister's bairns."

Big Error.

"Come now," persisted the lawyer, "are you not able to say, of your own knowledge, that the defendant was in the room at the time and objected to the whole proceeding?" "Yes, sir, savagely replied the witness. "I am able to say it, I reckon; but I'd be telling the biggest lie you ever heard of if I did."

Johnnie's Answer.

"Oh, Johnnie," said his aunt reproachfully, "why is it you never remember to say thank you?" "I expect it's 'cause I don't get things given to me often enough to practice," answered the young diplomat hopefully eyeing a box of candy.

PUBLIC DEBATE

Editor Tribune:

Dear Sir: Will you kindly place in the columns of your admirable public medium, for the benefit of our representatives in the city council, and for the interested public in general the following:

"I read in The Tribune a few days ago, with great interest, and must say to my surprise, that the decisive shot had been fired by the state R. R. C. in our great water works plans controversy. I wish to say right now, that I am at heart not what some would call an obstructionist to public improvements in our city. I have always been heartily in favor of beautifying, as well as helping improve her condition to the best of my ability by cheerfully carrying my share of the burden. But I do object to bankrupting the city by loading a debt on our shoulders, that we will never be able to work ourselves out from under. One-half a million dollars for a new water plant and that on top of the already too large amount of money for which we have issued our bonds. Would any one of our twenty-one aldermen conduct their own business in a like manner?"

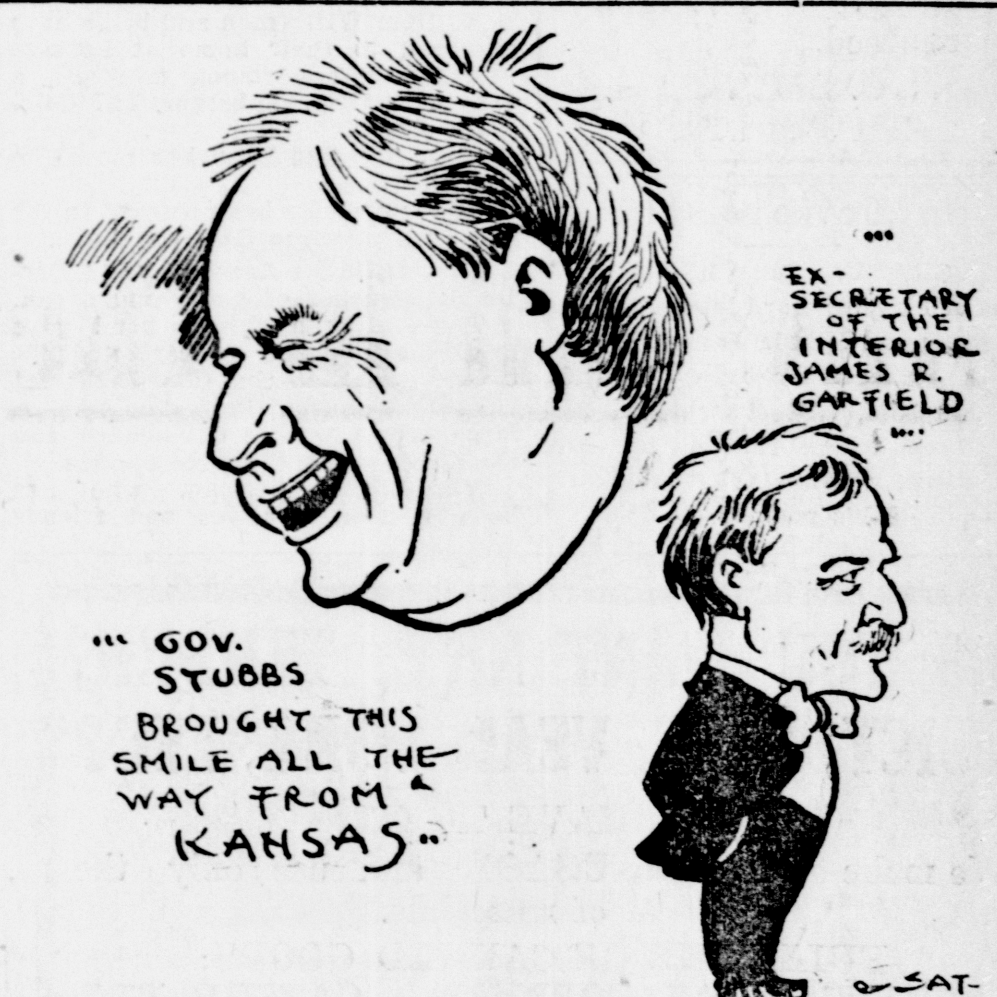

Why can not our municipal affairs be placed on a business basis? Where is there a business man that would for a moment consider such an extravagant proposition as to run his business on such a scale? Not an honest merchant would submit himself to such a method. Where can we find a merchant who goes to market without knowing how far he can go in his purchases, so as to be able to meet the account promptly when due? or better yet, to figure on paying for the goods on arrival to save the handsome cash discount for his own use. Can not a town, from the smallest village to a city the size of La Crosse, or larger, be conducted on the same "sane" principle and prosper better by far? At one time there lived a grand and good old man here whose memory is still cherished by all of us who have known him personally, and who admired his noble character. This man at one time was mayor of our city. He found the city treasury depleted, our city orders could not be cashed until the next collection of taxes was made, in consequence they were sold to merchants for the necessary supplies at a large discount, often at 50 cents on the dollar. Our grand old man called a halt on the city fathers. He put his honest fist, and both his feet down, and declared that no more city orders would be given out that bore the name of T. B. Stoddard, "mayor," until our city orders were selling at their face value. The council listened, and every member knew what that meant. They knew that their friend's word was as good as gold. He appealed to them that they were wasting the people's money, and that it was up to him to call a stop to it. In a short time the city orders were taken at par. It somewhat amused me to read the letter from our great R. R. C. commission to Alderman B. C. Smith, claiming absolute power to dictate to the city of La Crosse the installation of a new well water system and insist it must not be river water and that such wells must be located at just such a place as they, "the great R. R. C. and their great underground water experts" have chosen, located in the marsh, only a short distance from the city cemetery, not having the least of assurance of a permanent water supply nor the assurance of water that will, and can be used for every purpose. Here we have now the great river, the Mississippi, at our command, "a never failing supply," our great prairie the underground of which has in the past, and is today, furnishing us with the best quality of drinking water, in view of these facts, I cannot conceive a court of justice in this, our land, either high or low, that would uphold such an order without first investigating the drinking water now at our disposal and the unfailing supply of same.

In all the controversy for months back, no one has touched on this vital point, everybody seems to have forgotten that we have now the finest drinking water that can be found anywhere, and I think that everybody "if they are honest" will admit, that it is the pump handle that a small portion of our people would sacrifice for a new water plant, costing one-half million dollars and for a doubtful concern at the best, those people want it easier, just turn the faucet, or push the button and the great water works will do the rest, at the expense of the taxpayer, whose humble home perhaps had to be mortgaged to pay his taxes. When we have our great new water system in running order, we will find that we must have a cooling plant, to supply our public buildings and the demanding public with drinking water of the right temperature. One extreme follows another. I cannot help but have the greatest confidence in our present water plant, including our drinking water, supply as well as a quality in either of the systems, we have an everlasting flow that we cannot improve upon, with the exception of the intake pipe connecting the big pumps with the river, lay the same, or rather a much larger one to clear water, which you will find at all times in Pettibone Park lagoon, and keep your family pump in good repair, and we will have good and pure drinking water out of them for all times to come, and just the water that we want for lawns, washing, cooking and the boilers, supplied by our great pumps from an everlasting source.

Let us extend our sewer system as necessity demands and our drinking water will always be without a fault. In conclusion I cannot refrain from criticising some of our representatives in the city council. They were elected on the strength of faith and confidence their friends and constituents placed in them, to guard the individual, as well as the public interest at large of our city. I charge them with gross neglect in performing their duty, for which they gave their oath as aldermen. I claim they are struck with total blindness to the extent that they do not see the danger line to which we are approaching fast. They see not the large first mortgage, that the city holds already on every home, and other property in its bounds. They see not the sweat on the poor man's brow, as he toils by day, nor the restless tossing of his tired form on his cot at night, thinking out ways and means to enable him to pay the interest on that first mortgage. In January, and on the possible second mortgage, "legally called the first," some other time. They see not the anxiety the man suffers for fear his humble home will soon fall under the hammer and his beloved ones will be homeless, through the extravagance of the men that they elected to a seat in the council. They do not see the principle of the first mortgage on their and our homes, unless by chance their eyes are opened if they should decide to sell their belongings and find that they must discount a considerable amount from first cost or what it ought to bring, if conditions were normal. He must take about seventy-five cents on the dollar if he wants to make a sale. They hear not the pleadings of the general public in our city to go slow, for fear we might lose some of the few industries we have now. They do not comprehend that new concerns, that are contemplating to come here with money and men, are first of all investigating their record as guardian of their interest should they decide to locate here, when they find your stewardship over public property has been conducted extravagantly to the extreme, they give us the shake. Can you blame them?

It is late in the day for this protest against spending the people's money so foolish and unnecessarily, but I hope, and trust that they will yet turn to the right and open their eyes wide, and throw off your hypnotic spell that I believe has control over them. Gentlemen of the council consider in the right light, the good and joy you can create by reconsidering what you have done so far, throw overboard the whole project of the one-half million dollars new water plant, and thereby lift a great burden from the shoulders of our people, and restore happiness and content.

Yours truly,
HENRY F. RUNGE.

150 Picked Athletes Confident in Belief They Will Score Most Points of All Entries

NEW YORK, June 14.—The United States Olympic team, comprising 150 picked men, sailed on the specially chartered liner Finland today for Stockholm where, next month, they will meet in competition the cream of the athletes from 40 other nations. A crowd at the dock wished the boys "Good Luck" as the Finland pulled out.

There was a well defined feeling among the members of the team that the United States would score an overwhelming victory in the field and track championships. The athletes reported in splendid physical condition, not a single man complaining of being out of form. James E. Sullivan, United States commissioner to the Olympic games, says that America would score more than 80 per cent of the points in the track and field meets.

"Never before has this country gathered a team for an Olympic meeting," he said, "which has nearly approached in well balanced strength the present collection of record breakers and champions which sailed on the Finland. Principal points will be scored in the running events up to the 5,000 meter race and in the pole vault, the running high jump and running broad jump, the hammer throw, the shot put and the hurdles."

CANADA THRIVING
ON FALLS POWER

American Business Men Deplore Law Which Prevents Their Profiting in Development

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., June 14.—Facts respecting the use of Niagara Falls power in Canada have just been made public by the Board of Trade of Niagara Falls, N. Y., in support of its position that present restrictions on the importation of electric current from Ontario should be removed. The Board of Trade draws a conclusion identical with that of Gen. Bixby, Chief of Engineers, United States Army, to wit, that Canada will shortly be generating all the electric energy from Niagara Falls which she is allowed to do under international agreement and if the United States does not permit the importation of this power, industries will be established in Canada to get the benefit of it which otherwise would go to the up-building of this country.

Increase 400 Per Cent.

In the last three years use of Niagara power in the United States has increased fifty per cent, while in Canada it has increased 400 per cent. Six years ago less than 3,000 electric horse power from Niagara Falls was sold in Canada. Now sales amount to about 100,000 horse power. Within six years, in what is known as the Welland Canal zone, more than a score of industries have established themselves, representing $15,000,000 in plants and employing 12,000 persons.

Under the new Canadian-American waterways treaty by which the two nations have undertaken jointly to protect the scenic beauty of the cataract for all time, not more than 36,000 cubic feet of water per second may be used for power purposes on the Canadian side. This represents about 500,000 horse power of which plans have been laid already to develop 415,000 horse power. It is urged that unless the United States acts promptly in securing what it can use of this, it will soon be too late.

Limit 160,000 Horse Power.

At present, importation of electric energy is restricted to 160,000 horse power. This limit was fixed by the Burton law of 1906 with a view to safeguarding the Horseshoe or Canadian Falls, since at that time Canadian law afforded the cataract no protection. Now that the Falls enjoy adequate and permanent protection on both sides by treaty, the import limit is regarded as superfluous, and it is argued that since Canada is sooner or later certain to use the full quota of water allowed her, the power therefrom might as well be used to build up industry in the United States as in Canada.

May Lose Limit.

As the Burton law will expire next spring, Congress is expected to replace it next winter by legislation which will permit unrestricted transmission of electric power from Canada, and also to allow the use of the full 20,000 cubic feet of water per second on the American side for which the treaty provides. This will make it possible to develop some 50,000 additional horse power, but in the opinion of the government engineers who made the surveys upon which the treaty was based will have no appreciable effect upon the integrity and beauty of the cataract.

NEW DEVICE FOR LAUNCHING SHIPS

WASHINGTON, June 14.—A new feature of launching of United States battleships, which was inaugurated when the battleship Texas slid down the ways at Newport News, Va., recently, has come to stay and will be a part of all future launchings. Hereafter when describing launchings of this kind, reporters will write:

"The trigger was released and the great ship slowly slid down the ways to the water."

What is a trigger?

A trigger is a mechanical device which slips under the stern. The ways are greased with tons of tallow and everything is prepared for the launching. Then the trigger is pulled. The trigger is capable of holding back a weight equivalent to 600 tons. In the case of the battleship Texas the resultant force of the battleship resting on the ways and Owners of the bicycles can secure them by calling on Messrs. Webber and Bauch and proving that the wheels belong to them.

GERMAN FIDDLES MACHINE MADE

American Violin Industry
Suffers from Cheap Instrument Made in Fatherland

CHICAGO, June 14.—Another American industry which dates back to Colonial days, violin making, has confessed itself beaten, the tireless efforts of Germany to capture the trade of the world having won. Chicago manufacturers of violins admit their defeat by the "fiddle factory," one of the industrial novelties which German inventiveness has created and to which the cheap violin has surrendered any claim to being classed as a musical instrument. Not only was Chicago the greatest piano manufacturing center but its output of violins was large until the effects were felt of the fiddle factory where instruments are produced by machinery for the American market. The methods by which these inexpensive but inferior violins are made were recently explained in a magazine article by O. H. Bryant, a Boston artist craftsman, who has made and repaired violins for some of the most famous violinists living. The manufacturers of cheap instruments steam or boil a sheet of fir or pine until it is soft and then apply a metallic die to it. A few minutes pressure accomplishes what resembles the result of days of labor with chisels, planes and scrapers. The effect of the pressing, however, is to cause so many minute breaks in the wood's structure that the violin so produced lacks brilliancy of tone. The machine work literally breaks its spirit. To show what a violin should be and to demonstrate that while European fiddles tend to fall off in quality, and that some of the best modern violins are being made in America, Mr. Bryant offers annually in competition to violin students of the New England Conservatory of music one of his modern Strads, cut from colonial spruce according to the best traditions of the Cremona makers. An invasion of instruments, manufactured entirely by hand processes, to be almost the equals in workmanship and tone of those of the famous Italians of old times would please Chicago better than further importations of creaking fiddles from the Fatherland.

the case is not in the jurisdiction of this court," he said, "there are courts that can take care of him. I will do everything in my power to send him to prison and my girl will be here to testify when his case comes up in October."

"Just tell the people," said Miss Nelson as she was leaving today, "that I escaped from the clutches of that man and am going home to stay. I will tell my story in court when the time comes but I hope they keep him locked up in jail until then."

Hypnotic Powers?

"Do you know," she added, "I believe that Allen has hypnotic powers. He had the queerest influence over me that was growing stronger the longer I stayed near him. I can't explain it but it was a very strange feeling. He is a wicked man and I shall be thankful to my last day that I managed to get away from him before it was too late."

HALLING STEVNE COMES TO AN END

Gathering of Norwegians at Spring Grove, Minn.,
Finishes This Evening

SPRING GROVE, Minn., June 14.—(Special).—Up to a late hour last night Hallings were still pouring into Spring Grove by every train, and it is estimated that at the lowest estimate five hundred more came here yesterday. Today is the last day of the Halling Stevne which has attracted Norwegians from all over the northwest, the grand gathering of the clans ending this evening in the opera house with an illustrated lecture by Joakim Arnesen.

This afternoon was devoted to a continuation of the Halling program in Halling park, and the decisive baseball game of the series was won by Caledonia, 2 to 1. The second game yesterday went to Luther, 3 to 2. This afternoon tells the tale, and the town is excited over the outcome.

Last night it was estimated that over 600 persons attended the banquet in the church parlors. The hungry were fed in three relays, and after the banquet there was a travestie in the opera house, in which pictures of native Norwegian scenes were exhibited.

The services opened this morning with services in the church at 10:30 led by Professor J. E. Thoen, Albert Lea, Minn. There was also a travel talk at the opera house by Joakim Arnesen, the world-traveled lecturer. This afternoon there will be moving pictures on exhibition.

IS A MEMBER OF THE
OUTLAW ALLEN
GANG

MOUNT STERLING, Ky., June 14.—Believing that they have captured Wesley Edwards, one of two members of the Allen Outlaw clan still being sought in connection with the assassination of Judge Thornton L. Massie and four others in the courthouse at Hillsville, Va., last March, the Powell county authorities today communicated with the governor of Virginia in an effort to complete identification.

A reward of $2,500 for the capture of Edwards, "dead or alive," has been offered. If the suspect caught at Clay City proves to be Edwards, Town Marshal Pettit of that place will receive the reward. Edwards is a nephew of Sidna Allen, the other member of the outlaw band still at large. It is believed Edwards and his uncle have been sticking close together since their escape.

One year after marriage a man can seldom offer a satisfactory explanation.

OLD GLORY 136 YEARS OLD TODAY

American Flag Today Celebrates Anniversary of Adoption by Continental Congress

With two new stars in its blue field, the flag of the United States is today waving over hundreds of buildings throughout the country in honor of the annual observance of its birthday. It is interesting to note that it is nearly 135 years since the first American flag was unfurled, when it was hoisted as a sign of victory over the British standards at Fort Stanwix, after the battle of Oriskany, August 8, 1777.

Tradition gives to Betsy Ross, of Philadelphia, the honor of making the first American flag of the design now in use. It was adopted by the continental congress in 1777, June 14, just 135 years ago today. In its original form the American flag was a five-pointed blue star on a blue background, with thirteen alternating red and white stripes. Previous to that it had been the British union in the corner now occupied by the stars, with the thirteen stripes in their relative positions.

When Vermont and Kentucky were admitted as states in 1794, two new stripes and stars were added, but the stripes were later cut down to thirteen, in memory of the first colonies to become states. In the first flags the stars were generally arranged in a circle.

Before the adoption of the present national emblem, the colonies, then in the thick of the war for independence, had many various battle flags, which ranged all the way from pieces cut from the colored upholstery of chairs to classic figures of liberty embroidered on silk. One of the best known was the famous "Don't Tread on Me" design used by John Paul Jones, the first sailor of the American navy to hoist the national colors. This was a green pine tree on a white ground, with a snake with thirteen rattles coiled beneath, and the motto above.

ROOSEVELT AND TAFT MEN CLASH IN A FIST FIGHT

committee room dwarfed the main performance inside. Police pried the warring Oklahoma clansmen apart and quiet was restored.

The row started when Disney, after voicing his opinion as to the extreme staleness of the chance of a Roosevelt man getting a fair break in the committee, rounded out his remark with an opinion of Victor which the latter did not construe as complimentary.

McFarg Claims Texas
"If the national committee acts like a bunch of thieves in the Texas contests, then they must expect us to treat them as such," declared Ormsby McFarg, the Roosevelt contest manager, before the opening of today's hearings.

"We are clearly in the right, and if the committee pays any attention to the merits we will get nearly all of the thirty seats."

It was obvious early today that the Virginia contests, where twenty seats are at stake, and the Texas contests, with thirty, would develop really serious clashes.

The national committee hoped to finish both Virginia and Texas today, making it possible to finish the contests Saturday.

The Texas contests are based on the fight of the Taft forces to oust Cecil Lyon, the Roosevelt state manager, from leadership in the Texas republican organization.

The Taft claims are based on the fact that Lyon disregarded the call of the national committee and had the Texas delegates named at the state convention. Thereupon the Taft men held strict district conventions and put through their own slate. Later Lyon held district conventions and held the Roosevelt men elected a second time. In the Virginia contests, the Roosevelt contestants base their case on the claim that Taft organization is "illy white" and that the district conventions, at which national delegates were elected, excluded negroes.

If the national committee takes the 14 contested seats in Washington away from Roosevelt and gives them to Taft the reason assigned will be that they were elected from the state at large instead of by districts.

SCHOOLS CLOSED FOR THE SUMMER

Children See Visions of Unlimited Fun During Ten Weeks' Vacation

110 TO ENTER HIGH SCHOOL

Fall Semester Will Open
September 3; Year's Work Ends at Noon

With one grand whoop of joy, hundreds of children of La Crosse flowed out of the city schools at noon today, their arms loaded with books, tablets, pencils and pens, while visions of ten long weeks of unbounded freedom flashed before their youthful gaze. Dreary class rooms and monotonous lessons were forgotten in the great burst of joy which they felt as they realized there would be no more work, and no more confining discipline for a whole summer, while a look of perception of impending disaster spread over the faces of the scores of mothers as they prepared to take up the work of keeping the "kids" out of mischief.

With but one idea, that of having all the fun which could be had in a summer, the children scattered, each to seek his or her chief form of amusement and to remain in youthful bliss until the clang of the school bell again summons them to their tasks.

At noon today the school year was ended in the six public schools and the parochial schools of the city. The principals of the various schools meet at the high school this afternoon to submit their annual reports. The tentative reports show that 110 pupils of the ten public schools have been graduated and will enter the high school next fall. Twenty-three pupils have been graduated from the eighth grade of the normal school and forty-five from the various parochial schools. In many of the schools, exercises were held this afternoon. Fifteen pupils were graduated from the Franklin school. The fall semester will open September 3.

FRANKLIN SCHOOL GRADUATES FIFTEEN

A class of fifteen pupils have been graduated from the Franklin school during the second semester, making a total of forty-four for the year, twenty-nine having been graduated at the end of the first semester. The graduates are: Raymond Rice, Wilfred Figgle, Hjalmar Gunderson, Palmer Hanson, Arnold Heine, Ralph King, Leonard Leverance, Charlotte Lumley, Mildred Morning, Esther Olson, Lillian Opsahl, Gladys Sheely, Lilah Vik, Esther Zimmer and Joseph Jacobson.

DENIES FIRST STORY AND GETS SIXTY DAYS

Mildred Lattimore and Richard Stirmann were arraigned in county court this morning on a statutory charge. After a short trial the case was dismissed because of lack of evidence. Mrs. Sophie McGrath, 1219 West avenue south, who told the police the story that led to the arrest of the couple, "went back on her story" in court today and denied that she knew anything about the acts of the couple. In her story to the police she alleged that these acts had been committed in her house.

Mrs. McGrath was then arraigned on the same charge, found guilty and sentenced to sixty days in the county jail.

ADMITS PATRICIDE

FARGO, N. D., June 14.—Paul Jarso who was arrested here today admitted that he shot and killed his father at Pullman, Ill. He said the shooting was done when his father attempted to whip him, but that he did not know that his parent's wound was fatal. He was found working on a farm in this county.

BENEFIT PROGRAM IS EXCELLENT

Best of Local Talent Donate Services for Walter Goetzinger's Benefit

The benefit concert to be given for Walter Goetzinger, the famous blind pianist, will be one of the best entertainments of its kind ever given in La Crosse. Seldom has such an array of talent been assembled on one program, and never for such a splendid purpose.

Every cent realized will be used to enable Mrs. Goetzinger to undergo an operation by a noted Chicago oculist. Mr. Goetzinger visited this specialist some time ago to ascertain whether or not anything could be done to restore his sight. Failing in this, the specialist promised to greatly help, if not entirely cure Mrs. Goetzinger, whose eyes are not the best. The operation is necessarily an expensive one, and every one who attends will have the pleasure of knowing that they are aiding in a very worthy cause, in addition to being entertained by a splendid assemblage of musicians and entertainers.

The concert will be held Wednesday evening, June 19, at the Majestic theater.

be complete and succeed it must have the colonel at the wheel. Too many plans are spoiling the project and T. R. himself must decide which one of the lot will be chosen and see that all his followers get on the one line of attack.

That is the way both sides here today interpreted the Oyster Bay statement that the colonel left home today prepared to come directly here. With an apparent majority of the delegates in his favor and with some of the most experienced politicians in the county directing the struggle, the Roosevelt campaign has not developed the steadiness or strength its friends have hoped for.

The confidence of the Taft men has troubled Senator Dixon and his lieutenants, each of whom has had a plan different from any other. Three definite plans have been presented to Roosevelt. On his decision alone will depend which shall be put into effect.

First is the suggestion of a fight from the drop of the gavel. It is proposed that the moment Victor Roosevelt, as chairman of the republican national committee, calls the convention to order the Roosevelt men shall demand recognition. A Roosevelt man would be sent to the platform to preside and the Roosevelt delegates would endeavor to go right ahead and organize a convention within the Coliseum, regardless of what the Taft forces may do.

The second plan constitutes ignoring the Taft men entirely.

This proposal involves the staying away from the Coliseum, organizing a convention in the nearby armory, going through the regular procedure of a convention, adopting a platform and nominating a ticket headed by Col. Roosevelt and with either Governor Johnson of California, Hadley of Missouri or Bass of New York as his running mate.

The third plan is to go into the convention, accept the roll of the temporary organization as made up by the national committee and then fight the whole battle on regular lines. This plan involves the substitution of the name of Senator Borah, of Idaho, for that of Senator Root of New York, as the temporary chairman. Borah has been selected by the Roosevelt men, if this latter plan goes through, because of his wonderful platform magnetism, and a belief that with him as a candidate many of the uninstructed delegates now claimed by Taft, but who are more interested in party success at the polls next November than in any particular candidate would vote against Root.

While positively insisting that there can be no "dark horse," the Taft men were claiming today that if the president should surrender his candidacy in the interests of party harmony some other candidate than Roosevelt would be the nominee.

Much Dark Horse Talk

Nevertheless, the "dark horse" talk grew. The margin between the leading candidates is so close that the shifting of half a dozen votes might give the balance of power to the Cummins and La Follette handful of delegates. If this is so, there will be a lengthy deadlock on temporary organization and the convention will be complicated right from the outset. But William Barnes, Jr., the New York boss who is managing the Root campaign, insisted positively today that he had the votes to "put Root over." If he has and the Roosevelt forces enter the convention the deadlock will come. And Barnes, although at the present fighting tooth and nail for the president because the issue has been made a direct one between him and the colonel, is hopeful that something may turn up that would obviate the necessity of the Taft renomination. He is pinning his faith to Root and to Root's speech as temporary chairman.

Hughes Out

Justice of the Supreme Court Hughes, the second choice of many of the delegates both in the Taft and Roosevelt camps, is considered out of it today. His constant denials that he would be a candidate have been followed by leading party men who tell the men who desire to start a Hughes boom that they have the positive assurance of the justice that he is on the bench to stay and that if nominated he would be compelled to decline.

La Follette May Go

It is more than a probability today that by the time Col. Roosevelt reaches Chicago to personally direct his fight, Senator La Follette will have arrived on a similar mission. Four years ago La Follette came to Chicago and remained throughout the convention, personally directing his fight without his presence here being known. It is expected that he will adopt the same plan. That the La Follette forces prefer to play a lone hand was demonstrated today when overtures from the Cummins people with a view to a triple alliance between La Follette, Cummins and Roosevelt on the matter of organization, was turned down by Walter L. Houser, manager of the Wisconsin senator's forces.

Stealing a kiss may be either petty or grand larceny—it depends upon the girl.

BOND BUYS CATCHER FROM THE PIRATES

Louis Hillicker, the tall shortstop of the Winona club, was purchased last night by Manager Root to play with the Outcasts. Hillicker has been playing a great fielding game for the Pirates, in addition to which he is a reliable hitter, so the Outcasts ought to be considerably strengthened by his acquisition.

Hillicker will play the infield for the Outcasts, but it has not been announced just where he will play. He may be put in at the short field, but he may also be stationed at second, while there is some talk of having him perform at the initial sack while Van Horn is out with an injured shoulder. Elliott, the recruit who played left field yesterday, will be placed at shortstop for Winona.

Joe Safford has been released by the Binghamton club of the New York State league, according to a telegram received by President A. Elliott this afternoon. Safford asked to play on the local club but as the salary limit in this league is $1,100, he is too high a salaried player for the Outcasts.

President Elliott today received information that Eau Claire has released Tower, the southpaw, who has been with them this year. Rochester has let R. Walsh, catcher, go now that Manager Lizotte is back in the game.

Famous Arlington Hotel at Washington to Be Replaced by New Structure

HISTORIC MEMORIES MANY

Mark Hanna Died There, and it Was Favorite of McKinley and Morgan

WASHINGTON, June 14. — The Arlington Hotel, whose corridors have echoed to the steps of countless celebrities during its half century of existence, is being dismantled to make way for a gorgeous new hotel—also as a sort of "Wake" to the obsequies politicians and public men are recounting a new crop of reminiscences about the old hotel.

Also, second hand dealers and a few wise collectors are reaping bargains in the furniture and decorations. When the Arlington was built every stick of furniture came from the other side, and it was of the solid black walnut so much in vogue in those days. Half a dozen great paintings were imported, and artists called on the special canvases to decorate the corridors and lobbies. These priceless souvenirs have been eagerly sought, and brought astonishingly low prices. A wonderful glass chandelier, for instance, went for a little over $200. It cost nearly five times that much.

The Arlington used to pay its waiters 85 cents a day wages, and the waiters, in turn had to pay a "bus boy" 75 cents per day. At that it was said the waiters paid for the privilege of working at the hotel, because of the abundant tips they received.

J. Pierpont Morgan always had a suite reserved on the second floor overlooking a park. He wanted the same location in the new Arlington, and so purchased some of the stock in the new hotel, in order that he might command this favor.

Mark Hanna died in the little annex to the hotel—a small ivy covered brick house connected with the main hotel, and fronting on LaFayette Park. The Metropolitan club formerly had its quarters in the same place. President McKinley came to the Arlington just before his inauguration. He had always stopped there.

Through long years, the old hotel has held a sort of coterie of public men, in much the same way as New York's famous hostelry sheltered the "Amen Corner." There were no flashy ginger-bread modern fixtures at the Arlington—the service was precise and formal, the wines the most exquisite to be obtained, the food above reproach, and about it all was the hallowed air of age.

UNIQUE WAY TO SECURE STAMPS

MILAN, June 14.—An ingenious, if reprehensible, scheme to obtain stamps of rare value, has been divulged by one of the delegates at the Milan Congress of Philatelists, who admits that his collection contains two of the kind in question.

A trader of Jibouti, French East Africa, engages natives to commit a minor offense the penalty for which is a fine of fifty francs, of imprisonment by default. The native serves his sentence and on leaving prison receives a document bearing the stamp of the value of the fine, which he sells to the dealer for a nominal sum, the latter disposing of it to a collector at ten times the amount. Obliterated French colonial stamps of 50 francs denomination are highly prized by philatelists.

People who express a willingness to do anything in the world for you may be the first to back away when you ask a small favor.

Beauty—real beauty—is more than skin deep. No cosmetic in the world can give the wholesome color, the bright eyes, the clear, transparent skin that is the natural result of pure blood, proper diet and hygienic habits of daily life.

It sounds easy and it is easy for a woman to have the beauty which health alone can give. A safe and efficient tonic if the blood is weak, thin or impure (Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are especially recommended), the avoidance of foods which will cause eruptions, and regular bathing of the skin. That is all and it is the only way.

Write to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Box 176, Schenectady, N. Y., for a free booklet, "Plain Talks to Women." It is an outspoken but perfectly proper little book and should be read by every woman and growing girl. A free sample of the new laxative, "Pinklets," will also be sent you. Should you be unable to obtain Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People in your locality they will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50.

HARD ON HIS GUARD

SECRET SERVICE MEN WHO GO WITH TAFT HAVE DUTY AND UNPLEASANT JOB

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Campaigning with a president, especially with the present president, is dusty work, as the three secret service men, James Sloan, Jr., Lucien C. Wheeler, and Richard L. Jervis, known familiarly as "Jimmie," "Jack," and "Dick," who continually guard Taft, can testify.

That is because President Taft loves to campaign in an automobile. The three secret service men always follow in a car immediately behind the presidents. Taft usually speeds, but there is no chance for the secret service car to drop back to avoid the dust. It is their duty to keep the president always in view, and the result is that at the end of a strenuous autoing day the secret service men are plastered with dust and oil.

All three secret service men are particular dressers. When they come into a hotel in New York the other day in an auto following Taft through New Jersey, they put their shoes out into the hall to be cleaned up. Next morning the three of them rang frantically for their shoes. But a search of the hotel failed to find the missing footwear. The bellhop, judging from the shoes' appearance after a day of New Jersey dust, had thrown them away.

Truth is indeed mighty if it prevails in a horse trade. The more "good luck" signs a man knows the less he amounts to.

S.S.S. NATURE'S TONIC

The very great majority of persons need a tonic in the Spring or early Summer. The system undergoes a change at this season and the entire physical machinery is disturbed. The general bodily weakness, a tired, worn-out feeling, fickle appetite, poor digestion, a half sick feeling and a general run-down condition of the system, show that the blood is weak or anemic, and a blood purifying tonic is needed to build up the deranged system and enrich the blood. The use of S.S.S. at this time may save you from a long spell of sickness, and it will certainly prepare you for the long, hot Summer. Many people have put off using a tonic until the system became so weakened and depleted it could not successfully throw off disease germs, and have paid for the neglect with a spell of fever, malaria or some other debilitating sickness. S.S.S. is Nature's ideal tonic. It is a combination of the extracts and juices of roots, herbs and barks which science and experience have proven are best fitted for a tonic to the human system. It contains no minerals of any kind and is therefore perfectly safe for persons of any age. S.S.S. tones up the stomach and digestion, rids the system of that tired, worn-out feeling, and imparts vigor and strength to every part of the body. It purifies and enriches the blood, stimulates the secreting and excreting members to better action, quiets the overstrained nerves, and makes one feel better in every way.

NOT UNITED ON MAN FOR CHAIR

La Follette Delegation Not Yet Certain to Put McGovern Forward as Candidate

CHICAGO, June 14.—Whether or not Governor McGovern of Wisconsin will be the candidate of the La Follette forces for temporary chairman of the republican national convention is a question that will not be definitely settled for a day or two yet, perhaps not until Monday evening. There is no doubt that Wisconsin delegates would ordinarily be most favorable to Governor McGovern, while the La Follette delegates from North Dakota seem to be willing to accept him.

La Follette Leaders Hesitate. On the other hand, Governor McGovern could not be chosen except by the votes of the Roosevelt delegates, so that his selection would be a victory for Roosevelt as well as for La Follette. The La Follette leaders are determined to avoid helping either Taft or Roosevelt. They realize that if Taft should not have a majority on the first ballot, there will certainly follow a determined and concerted effort to stampee the convention to Roosevelt, and they hesitate to give the former president any advantage in the selection of a temporary chairman.

The Wisconsin delegates will meet next Monday evening for the first time, the recent gathering in Milwaukee having been attended by not more than half of them, and it is expected that the North Dakota delegates will convene about the same time. A joint meeting of the two delegations will probably be held before the convention opens.

KATHERINE TIPPAN DIES AT CHIPPEWA

Miss Katherine Tippman, aged 22, died at Chippewa Falls Tuesday of tuberculosis. Miss Tippman was a La Crosse girl and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tippman, 514 West avenue north. The remains arrived in the city this morning and the funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence and at 2:30 o'clock from the German Lutheran church, with Rev. Julius Gamm officiating at the services. Burial was made in Oak Grove cemetery. The pallbearers were Carl Witzke, Edwin Young, Albert Malzahn, Reinhold Grot.

"If you dissolve an original package of mayatone in a half pint witch hazel you have a true complexion beautifier that will make your skin smooth, clear, satiny and free from blemish. Gently massage the face, neck and arms with this simple lotion and you will be delighted with the improvement. It is better than face powder.

"Put four ounces of powdered orris root in a fruit jar, add an original package of theorex, shake together, and you have a perfect dry shampoo powder. Sift a teaspoonful on the head, brush through the hair, and it removes dust, excess oil and dandruff. Theorex makes the hair grow long and luxuriantly, and keeps it soft, fluffy and lustrous.

"To make a hair remover, mix powdered delatone and water in sufficient quantities to form a paste. Cover the hairs on face or forearms with the paste, allow to remain two minutes, then wash the skin and the hairs will be gone. This method is sure, safe and speedy.

"Thin eyebrows come in long, thick and silky if pyroxin is applied to lash roots with thumb and forefinger. Thin, straggly eyebrows will grow long, thick and lustrous with the same treatment."

GOVERNMENT IS POOR EMPLOYER

Honored and Trusted Employees of U. S. Receive Salaries Low for Their Ability

WASHINGTON, June 14.—It has been the comment in Washington that Uncle Sam doesn't pay his scientific experts very well. There are many men of great activity and experience in the government service whose salaries come within the $2,500 mark and many others who do not get over $2,000. All of these are, of course, graduates of colleges, many of them have master's and doctor's degrees and many others have spent several years in research work or in study in foreign universities. It is conceded that a good deal of honor attaches to a government position of this kind, and there are many persons who think that the surplus dignity and distinction supposed to attach to these positions does not make up for the lack of pecuniary compensation.

Here is a recent case: Dr. George F. Mitchell, expert in tea culture for the United States and an employee of the Department of Agriculture has been receiving $1,600 a year. He has charge of the government's tea farm at Summerville, S. Car. and his opinion and judgment are relied upon in all matters concerning tea. Recently Dr. Mitchell was assigned by the Treasury Department to supervise the inspection of all importations of tea. For this responsible work six months he will continue his tea farm experiments and other work for the Department of Agriculture and will receive for that $800. A total of $2,000 a year for one of the most responsible tasks in the government service.

Return love with interest—then watch the other party lose interest.

GOT HIS WISH.

TRIPOLI, June 14.—Holding that warfare should be conducted on scientific principles, Marquis Piratino, commander of the Italian dirigibles operating near Azizia, sailed over the Turkish encampment at Seniti-beni-Adem, and dropped a polite note to the Turkish commander Javer Effendi, requesting him to try a little artillery practice "in the interests of aerial warfare." The Turks obliged at once, and succeeded in hitting the dirigible which required for repairs.

Why Not Combine The Blessings of City and Country Life?

Own an ideal home in the Gulf Coast Country, where the climate is unsurpassed in the United States. Where you are in close touch with Houston, Tex., the great metropolis of the Southwest.

The Houston Suburban Home Tracts are popular because you can enjoy the blessings of country and city life at the same time. The Houston, Texas, Suburban Home Tracts of 5 and 10 acres each are only 8 miles from Houston, the ship canal city. We make the price in reach of all and sell on small cash down, and monthly payments, so clerks, teachers, mechanics and others with limited incomes can each own a home. Each tract fronts on a grassy road and is drained by latest scientific methods. A good living for a family can be made from one of these 5 acre tracts, as crops of vegetables, berries and fruits can be raised the year around. Three lines of railroad with as many new towns, viz: Fresno, Alameda, and Pearland, are on these tracts, and are modern, up-to-date towns, with fine schools, churches, stores and everything one needs. LA CROSSE ENTERS BIG GOLF TOURNEY

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 14.—Only one of the Milwaukee golf clubs will be represented in the competition for the Tom Morris trophy on Saturday, when all of the clubs in the Western association are eligible to start eight men teams in a match against par.

The Blue Mound Country club has decided to enter a team for the Tom Morris memorial competition against par, in which 166 clubs of the Western Golf association compete annually, the following team being named: Prime M. Davis, Dr. I. H. Fowle, Harry S. Hadfield, John J. Hosch, Howard S. Plimpton, George J. Carroll, Warren B. Bullock and T. E. Barnum. The course par is 69.

The Milwaukee Country club decided not to enter a team, owing to the delay in opening its course, and the Woodmont club decided not to be represented this year, as Saturday is the day set for the postponed opening of the club season. Play at this club will be for the Joseph Landauer cup, and the day will be featured as the formal opening day of the year. There will be a club dinner and dancing to follow the golfing. The Milwaukee Country club par is 73, and the difficulty of approaching that figure, especially with several of the club stars out of the city, makes an entry fruitless.

Several state teams will be entered, notably Racine, Kenosha, Janesville and La Crosse. The Janesville team includes several of the "Silver Grays," the team of men over 60 years which two years ago defeated every team in the west at that age. The team includes, A. Schaller, L. M. Brownell, S. D. Tallman, J. P. Baker, O. Sutherland, J. L. Wilcox, F. G. Grant and S. J. Baker. Golfing at the Parks Golf course at Lake Park is looking up, with the bright weather, which has rapidly brought the putting greens toward their usual excellent condition. The regular schedule will soon be in full swing.

It's easy to believe as you hope.

BUES WINS GAME FOR LA CROSSE

Singles in Ninth Driving in Brown with the Run that Beats Pirates 3 to 2

Three men on bases, one out and the score tied was the situation which faced Bues when he came to bat in the ninth inning of the last game of the series with Winona yesterday. Bues certainly made good in the pinch for he hit one on the nose which went safely through shortstop and into left field for a single, bringing in Brown with the tally which gave the Outcasts a 3 to 2 victory over the Pirates in the last game of the series.

The Morse brothers were pitching for their respective clubs and they participated in a great battle with honors just about even until Bues' smash gave Bond's gang a well earned victory. Paul Morse of La Crosse had the better of his brother up to the eighth inning when the Pirates tied the count but at that he could have shut out Winona for neither of the visitors' runs was earned. Brown's failure to hold one of Morse's pitches led in the first Pirate run while DuChien fumbled a bounder and paved the way for visitors' second count.

After pitching great ball and fielding his position in excellent style, Paul Morse had to retire in the ninth with one out because a hot grounder from Elliott's bat hurt his pitching hand. Morse knocked the ball down and pluckily threw his man out at first but his finger was so badly hurt that he had to quit, Schairer taking his place. Paul made another fine stop in the sixth off Curtis and robbed him of a hit when he soaked one back at him a mile a minute but he got that one also and threw his man out.

Paul Morse had a shade over his brother in the time he worked for Winona made only six hits off him, but they got seven bingles as they made one off Schairer. La Crosse also got seven hits but they bunched them in two innings while Winona could bunch swats in only one inning. Brother George had the better of the strikeouts as he fanned nine Outcasts whereas Paul fanned six. However, George was the wilder, passing six men and this helped in the scoring.

George Morse's wildness helped the locals to score in the first inning in which frame they got a one run lead. DuChien fanned for a starter but the visiting hurler passed Meinert, Weigert and Larson in succession, filling the bags. Only one was out and then Chapman let one of Morse's pitches get away from him and Meinert registered, the others moving up a base. Morse got the ball over and breezed Brown and Schroeder, this making three strikeouts.

The Outcasts increased their lead in the third although a double play killed their chances for more. DuChien blew the round open with a double and Meinert lost no time but sent him over with a single, taking second on the throw. Weigert sacrificed him ahead. Larson flew out to Elliott whose peg to the pan was true and doubled up Meinert who tried to score.

Winona had a good opening in the fourth but Paul Morse tightened up in the pinch and retired them. McKee walked with one down and went to second on Chapman's liner which was too hot for DuChien to handle. McKee was trapped off second but he got back safely and when Weigert pegged wildly to first, both men moved up. There were two out and Larson threw out Elliott.

They got one in the sixth though when Ginter singled with one down. He went to third on McKee's double and scored when Brown let a pitch escape him. With one out Morse fanned Calhoun and got Chapman on a fly. In the eighth they tied it up. DuChien juggled Curtis' grounder for a starter and Ginter sacrificed. McKee fanned but Calhoun singled registering the manager.

La Crosse won out in the ninth after Larson flew out for a starter. Morse gave Brown four wide ones then Schroeder came across with a single, advancing Brown. Bond batted for Helgeson and was passed. Then Bues sent the fans home happy by singling through short scoring Brown with the winning run. The score:

Convention Sidelights

CHICAGO, June 14.—Ralph Cameron, for years delegate to congress from Arizona and an ardent Taft booster, is elated over his election as national committeeman by the Arizona delegation.

"It shows I can be elected to something," Cameron said with a sick smile, sadly recollecting his defeat in the race for representative when Arizona secured statehood.

Senator Borah of Idaho was sprawled over three-fourths of a desk in a hotel telegraph office, writing a telegram. Another hotel guest walked up to the counter, eyeing Borah closely. He "sized up" the senatorial view, then he took a closer squint; then he examined the profile of the senator.

After the minute examination, the stranger did not disturb Borah, but quietly walked away, shaking his head dolefully.

Tactics made famous by London suffragettes and Carrie Nation are threatened by some of the more recent Roosevelt adherents. "This burglary by the national committee is simply going to make me leave a brick through every window where a Taft picture is posted," said Jerry Pierce of the Chicago reception committee, at the colonel's headquarters.

Immaculate white badges, fastened with "hat in the ring" buttons of bronze and red enamel, adorn the coat lapels of the Chicago reception committee to the Roosevelt delegates.

Medill McCormick, Roosevelt manager, today declared the charges of Manager McKinley of the Taft bureau, that delegates are being bribed, is founded upon the flop of a single Taft delegate from Alabama.

"And now every delegate that changes from Taft to Roosevelt will be charged by McKinley with having been bribed," said McCormick disdainfully.

Governor Stubbs of Kansas has long, fluffy white hair and he is wearing an ice cream suit that is the talk of the hotel lobbies. A very respectable and conscientious statesman he looks, nevertheless, like a "hot old sport," one of his friends told him as much.

"Oh, I don't care how I look," he retorted, "just so I'm cool and comfortable."

Mrs. Isabella W. Blaney, one of California's two women delegates to the convention, is too sick to come and her place has been taken by her husband, Charles Blaney, state highway commissioner.

The other woman delegate, Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, will arrive Saturday.

Mrs. Hiram W. Johnson is here with her husband, California's governor. She was telling some friends that she has a unique distinction in that her picture has never appeared in any newspaper.

"I believe in letting the men do the talking and posing," said Mrs. Johnson.

"We never get cold feet in Alaska," says Lewis P. Shackleford, republican national committeeman from the "ice box" country. "That is, we never get cold feet on our republicanism. We're an enthusiastic bunch up there even if we can't vote."

Mrs. C. D. Hilles, wife of President Taft's private secretary, has joined her husband here. Other wives who have come are Mrs. H. F. MacGregor, wife of the Taft manager in Texas; Mrs. Joseph B. Kealing, wife of the Taft manager in Indiana; Mrs. Wallace Batchelder, wife of the Roosevelt leader in Vermont, and Mrs. Pearl Wight, wife of the republican national committeeman from Louisiana.

Homesick to see their three-year-old baby, whom they left at home in charge of an old mammy, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hundley of Alabama have telegraphed that the little one be brought to Chicago.

Mr. Hundley is the Roosevelt manager in Alabama and with his wife, has been in Chicago several days. "When I left home I thought I could get along for a week or so without seeing the baby, knowing she would have the best of care, but I find it impossible," said Mrs. Hundley.

"Indeed I am not a suffragette," said Mrs. P. Sullivan, wife of one of the delegates from Wyoming. "I hate extremes in everything. I believe a woman's first place is in her home."

Mrs. Caroline Waugh McCulloch, leader in the woman suffrage movement, characterizes Colonel Roosevelt as "noble" for his declaration that the platform he will submit to the convention will contain an unequivocal declaration in favor of woman suffrage.

"It means that suffrage is near and Colonel Roosevelt's stand will be a great impetus to the movement," said Dr. Anna B. Blount, another suffrage leader.

CORPSE WOKE UP; FUNERAL PUT OFF

VIENNA, June 14.—A funeral which had to be postponed because the "corpse" thought he would like to go home is reported from Zuzawa, Galicia. A prominent landowner named Masny was being buried with elaborate ceremony; the priest had given his last benediction to the departed, and the relatives were commencing to fill the grave, when hollow cries for help were heard issuing from the coffin. Most of the mourners stampeded mad with terror, but on the priest and gravediggers mustering up sufficient courage to investigate and remove the lid of the coffin, the "corpse" was found to be very much alive.

BEAUTIFUL HANDS AND ARMS

A FAMOUS BEAUTY GIVES HER SECRET TO THE WORLD

A Free Prescription You Can Prepare At Your Own Home

Many women take perfect care of their face and clothes, yet neglect their hands. Rough, red hands are almost as unattractive as ill-kept teeth.

It is a simple, easy matter to keep your hands smooth and beautiful. The following prescription, which you can compound at your own home, is famous for the marvelous, instantaneous result it gives:

Get from your druggist one ounce of Kulus Compound. Put it in a two-ounce bottle, add quarter of an ounce of witch hazel, fill with water and shake well.

You will be surprised at the result when applied to your hands, arms or neck. Blemishes of every kind disappear as if by magic. Freckles, tan, rough skin, coarse pores, yield instantly to this application. This is the private prescription of a famous Parisian beauty.

He could give no explanation of his strange trance but was well enough to walk home, and is now completely recovered.

PRODUCTION OF FAKE SILK SMALL

WASHINGTON, June 14.—French manufacturers of artificial silk, notwithstanding great increases in production, are unable to supply the demand, according to the U. S. Consular Service. The production of the artificial silk remains far below that of the real silk. In 1909 70,547,900 pounds of real silk were turned out by the world's producing centers, but the spinning factories where artificial silk is made, were unable to deliver more than 2,976,000 pounds. The artificial product is made out of cotton, no chemical process being used in manufacture. The cotton raw material only undergoes a mechanical change and an additional process is used to make it brilliant and incombustible. The only difference between artificial silk and cotton fabrics lies in the weaving process.

The artificial silk processes are in general use, the Chardonnet, the viscose and the one called vegetable casein. The viscose is the cheapest. The delicacy of the work is seen in the fineness of the texture. The threads are spun at one-eighteenth of a hair's diameter. This almost imperceptible filament is very strong and solid. Its base is spun glass and it can be twisted, braided, or woven with extraordinary facility.

One way to break a friendship is to go broke yourself.

SECOND CHOICE STILL MYSTERY

No One Yet Out Who Is Acceptable for the Vice Presidential Nomination

CHICAGO, June 14.—With the assembling of the republican national convention only four days off, a remarkable situation exists so far as the vice presidential situation is concerned. For the Taft forces there are only two avowed candidates in the field. They are James S. Sherman, the present incumbent, of New York, and Governor John A. Mead of Vermont. Sherman will establish headquarters. Neither man is acceptable to the president, Mr. Taft wants a progressive on the ticket with him.

Senator Cummins was the Taft choice, but the Iowa solon has positively refused to even consider the suggestion and up to date no other aspirant has been discovered.

For the nomination as the running mate of Colonel Roosevelt, the popular choice is Governor Hadley of Missouri and Governor Johnson of California. Either would take the nomination and which ever is decided upon would be perfectly satisfactory to Roosevelt, who says he wants a rough and tumble campaigner, realizing that if he is finally nominated he will face the most bitter conflict in the history of the presidency.

FINDS WAY TO CAN DAYLIGHT

WASHINGTON, June 14.—"Canned daylight" is an illuminating invention of Prof. Walter O. Snelling, of Pittsburgh, former expert of the Department of Agriculture. He is starting Washington scientists and gas manufacturing experts with demonstrations of his new "sunshine" maker, carried in a small suitcase.

Liquid gas is Prof. Snelling's invention. It is manufactured from wasted gases and vapors of oil wells, cheap to produce, easily condensed and transported. That it will revolutionize farm illumination is predicted by its inventor. His suitcase "gas plant" carries enough material to light a room for two weeks, without replenishing, at a cost of about $1.

"Canned" gas, Prof. Snelling says, can be supplied farmers at a cost per thousand foot as low as the city denizens now pay. In a single container, two thousand feet, nearly a month's supply, is held in liquid form, to be liberated when burned as needed. The liquid gas develops a heating and lighting power of 2,400 British thermal units as against 1,000 units of ordinary illuminating gas.

CITIES CHARGED EXCESSIVE RATES

La Crosse, Milwaukee, Oshkosh and Madison Insurance Rates Too High, Says Ekern

MADISON, Wis., June 14.—Milwaukee, Oshkosh, Madison and La Crosse, among other Wisconsin cities, are paying excessive rates for dwelling house insurance, aggregating an overcharge to dwelling house owners of upwards of $700,000 annually. This is one of the conclusions demonstrated by the evidence presented to the legislative fire insurance investigating committee, according to a statement made by Insurance Commissioner H. L. Ekern.

Prior to 1909, according to the commissioner, the Wisconsin inspection bureau had fixed the dwelling house rates throughout the state at 40 cents per $100 on frame buildings in towns having the protection of fire departments and 50 cents in unprotected towns. The inspection bureau on June 1, 1909, recommended a reduction to 35 cents and 40 cents respectively.

"These reductions, ranging from 12 to 20 per cent and amounting to as much as 100 per cent in some cases, were generally acceptable to the companies and were rapidly adopted in the smaller cities and villages, but the local boards in the larger cities generally delayed any action," declared Mr. Ekern. "Thus, in the cities of Milwaukee, Oshkosh, Madison and La Crosse the old rates are still being charged. It is safe to say that this action on the part of the local boards has cost the dwelling house owners of this state several hundred thousand dollars more in premiums than the companies stood ready to accept."

The testimony before the investigating committee also indicates that Wisconsin is a profitable field for insurance companies in that the ratio of losses to premiums is more favorable than in the country as a whole. Excepting the year, 1910, which was an unfavorable year for all classes of companies in Wisconsin, the percentages for each year show a more favorable loss ratio in Wisconsin than upon the business of these companies as a whole. The losses in Wisconsin are about 4 per cent lower than for companies operating outside of this state.

COMMERCE SPOILS HISTORICAL SPOT

Railways Near St. Paul Destroy Cave Which Was Council Chamber of Indians

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 14.—Far above the banks of the Mississippi, where the river makes a great curve below St. Paul, is one of the historic spots of the northwest. Among the early settlers of the vast territory which stretches from Lake Michigan to the Pacific ocean, few spots are known more widely than Carver's Cave.

This natural hole in the face of the sand stone cliff for years had been used as a meeting place of the Indians. Here Captain Jonathan Carver was entertained by the Dakota Indians in November, 1767, one of the first white men in what is now Minnesota. He found the cave a large opening some distance above the water, and in the midst of the cave was a lake described as of considerable size. It was here the Indians met for council and here the Great Spirit was supposed to dwell. On top of the bluff overlooking a wide expanse of the valley of the river was the burial place of the Indians.

When Carver visited what is now St. Paul, the cave was 11 feet high and 30 feet broad, and with amazing depth. The walls were decorated with the rude carvings of the Indians, and the water in the lake was clear as crystal.

On May 1, 1867, the Minnesota State Historical society celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of the council and treaty which Captain Carver made with the Indians, by holding a meeting in the great cave, which they found much as Captain Carver described it in early histories of the northwest section of the United States. They determined to plan for a meeting in 1967 for their descendants in the same place.

But before another century had well started the railways with ruthless hands had torn down the side of the cliff for additional ground on which to enter the city. The growth of the railway business, which is among the largest for any city of the country, continued to demand more room, until the cave and the lake within it have been cut away. All that remains is the end of the cave, used as a spot for Boy Scouts to visit.

DETECTIVES SHOOT CURIOUS YOUTH

PERTH AMBOY, N. Y., June 14.—Private detectives guarding the plant of the American Smelting & Roofing Co., shut down by a strike of its employees, shot through the hand yesterday Michael Heney, a young railroad employee, who climbed over a fence in a fit of curiosity. It was the only untoward incident of the day following Wednesday night's serious rioting. One thousand workers, mostly women in the Perth Amboy Cigar company, a branch of the American Tobacco company, quit this afternoon without making any demands of their employers.

DISCREDIT TALES OF CUBAN BARBARITY

WASHINGTON, June 14.—State department officials today discredited published tales of Congo-like atrocities in the Cuban rebellion. It was declared by officials in touch with Cuban affairs that such stories were inspired by rabid annexationists, that the idea of provoking intervention by arousing public sentiment in the United States.
Despite the pressure exerted by American interests the United States state department, it was reported that the United States expects to maintain a "hands off" policy unless forced from this position by an increase in the strength of the rebellion.

Chicago Grain Letter
CHICAGO, June 14.—Sentiment was more mixed on exchange today than at any time for the last several weeks. Speculative influences were negative in the wheat market and apparently it was the desire of the bear side to see the market over-sold. Prices were forced down from the opening which was considerably under yesterday's close. Receipts in the local market were small. Liverpool reported unchanged prices.
The weather was more favorable to the growing corn crop, rains having fallen over the heaviest raising regions. Receipts were larger here than expected, and prices made gen-

CALLS COLONEL'S LEADERS BULLIES

New York Representative of State Committee Attacks Flinn and Glascock

CORRUPTION RIFE, HE SAYS

Charges Colonel with All Manner of Evil Practices and Lack of Principle

NEW YORK, June 14.—Characterizing the Roosevelt leaders as bulldozers and bullies, Hugh Hastings, acting for the republican state committee yesterday issued a statement declaring that Taft would have at least sixty majority on the first ballot in the Chicago convention. The statement follows:
"Advice from Chicago from the most conservative sources, indicate that President Taft will have at least sixty majority. It is this knowledge that has thrown the Roosevelt leaders into a state of panic and desperation. Beaten at their own game, exposed to the entire country as braggarts, bullies and bulldozers, they resort to the last remedy of people of their kind, and threaten the destruction of the republican party and political revolution of the country. Every charge, however, sinister, wild and malignant that Mr. Roosevelt has thrown against President Taft, has been laid bare as having been practiced by Mr. Roosevelt and his followers.

Charges Corruption
"He has charged President Taft with corruption, and no corruption has ever been proven against the president, while the developments every day demonstrate corrupt methods pursued by the Roosevelt outfit.
"Every foul method Roosevelt has charged to the president has fallen to the ground and, strange as it may seem, eventually has been linked with his own methods. From the beginning his policy has been one of ruin or destruction. Determined to obtain the nomination he has not permitted language, barriers of any kind, friendships, principles of the highest mark nor the interests of his party and his country to stand in the way.

"The culminating point has not been reached, and strange as it may seem, the American people are not only apathetic and indifferent to the danger that is menacing them, but supinely asleep in the face of the greatest crisis that has confronted the country since the outbreak of the civil war.

Hits at Flinn
"Declarations of Mr. Flinn of Pennsylvania and Mr. Glascock of West Virginia, who definitely declares that the republican part of the electors from their states will vote for Roosevelt, no matter who is nominated at the republican convention, is in line with Mr. Roosevelt's policies at the outset.

"Flinn declares: 'The time has come when political rebellion is necessary.'
"Mr. Glascock: 'There is no law to prevent it. The people vote for the president, and not for the electors.'
"The people of the country should awaken to the lawlessness of the Roosevelt aggregation, who are determined to follow but one principle—in defeat—destruction to the party and revolution in the country."

SIAMESE KING WOULD PAY TAX

LONDON, June 14.—The King of Siam has set a fine example to his fellow monarchs of more enlightened nations—which, however, is not likely to be followed—in directing that his property be taxed the same as that of any private individual.
"Apart from the official side," says His Majesty Maha Vajiravudh, in an official communication to his ministers of the interior and local government, news of which has just reached London, "I consider myself as being on the same footing as any ordinary person. The people in general who own landed of house property have to pay taxes in proportion to their holdings. The property which I possess is considerable; and the government should have a share of the same as a contribution towards the maintenance of the state and nation like any other individual.
"Accordingly, henceforth, I request you to levy taxes on all landed and house property which are considered my personal possessions in the same manner as they are levied upon those of the general public."

IMPORT DOLLAR AND PULLMAN TO CHINA

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Republican money and Pullman sleeping cars are two innovations in old fashioned China. The new Chinese Republic dollars, the minting of which has begun, bear two lions and the Chinese character for "One Dollar" on one side, and on the reverse, the characters "Current Money" and "Chinese Republic," with a wreath of flowers. Yuan Shi Kai has inspected the new coins and has given his approval of them.
The first of two sleeping cars available for service between Shanghai and Nankin was put into use April 11. It is 68 feet long and the bunks are each 7 feet long.
The revolution appears to have greatly stimulated the drama in China. Recently a big theatre has been built in Shanghai, and a number of modern Chinese dramas are to be staged. For these productions, 80 actors have been engaged.

SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR

Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed

There is nothing new about the idea of using Sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our grandmothers kept their hair dark, glossy and abundant by the use of a simple "Sage Tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of Sage leaves, and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old time tiresome method of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves; and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing Sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy. This preparation gives youthful color and beauty to the hair and is one of the best remedies you can use for dandruff, dry, feverish, itching scalp, and falling hair. Get a fifty cent bottle from your druggist today, and you will be surprised at the quick results. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented.

CUBAN TROUBLE OVER

REBELS AWED BY U. S. FORCE AND ARE TAKING ADVANTAGE OF THE AM-NESTY

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The sending of the first division of the Atlantic fleet from Hampton Roads north to Narragansett Pier yesterday for summer practice drill is the outward indication of the administration's belief that the Cuban crisis is over, at least temporarily. State, navy and war officials expressed the opinion yesterday that the presence of American battleships in Cuban waters and of American marines in Cuban provinces, has awed the rebel bands. Many insurgents are taking advantage of the amnesty and are laying down their arms. Rumors of sharp fighting between rebels and United States marines at Santiago, with casualties among the negroes, continued to filter into the state department, but there was no official confirmation.

WANT AMENDMENT.

MADISON, Wis., June 14.—Resolutions asking the legislature to amend the law providing for the biennial convention of city and village health officials so as to provide for annual conventions, were adopted on Thursday at the first convention now being held.
